

one day at techtv ...

:: Complaint Generator Activated ::

Dvorak: Hi there...

Dvorak: We at TechTV are just discovering this site. We absolutely love it. It's great. Becky as Tabitha from "Bewitched," Robyn in love with "the Bandit," Les Nessman . . . Well, dang it, this site is just great!

Dvorak: While I realize this site is a parody of the channel, sometimes in parody things can cross the line.

Dvorak: They can take jokes about our take on "reality," that's fine, we live in California and "Real" and "Reality" are strange concepts to all of us.

Dvorak: But sometimes things go to far.

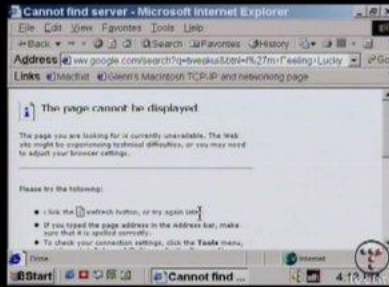

Dvorak: In a recent segment, something was aired about a staffer that was just wrong.

Dvorak: Through the use of windows technology, the owners of this web site modified something that was said on the show to fit a certain role in the story.

Dvorak: Here's what they aired and you can see where they just went too far...

TechTV Staffer: Would you believe it's that I'm not wearing any pants under this desk?

Dvorak: Our staffer did not say it...

Dvorak:... I did.

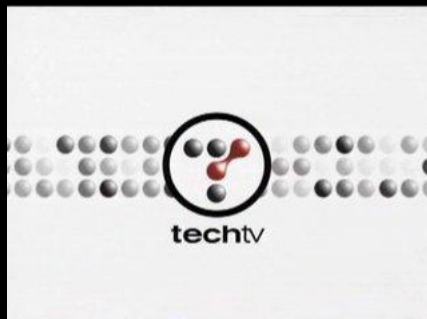

Dvorak: I want to make it clear that wearing pants is an issue that I take seriously. My comments were in jest and I was actually wearing pants at the time. With that in mind, my lawyers have been contacted and they are currently "talking" to the owner of this site to make things clear... if the pants fit, you must acquit.

::Pow:: ::Bang:: ::Kapow::

Dvorak: Now back to our story...

We'll be right back...

