

one day at techtv ...

Patrick: Man, I can't believe that he went with this extended AMD gag...
Leo: I'll take this one Patrick, yes, the readers at home have GOT to be sick of this whole "Leo Laporte destroys the world" storyline.

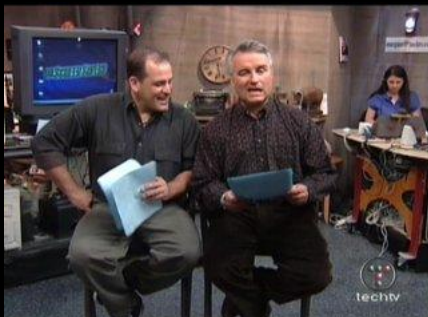

Patrick: Well I DID start it Leo...
Leo: Hold on a second Patrick, this e-mail points out that I, as the giant marshmallow man, have the record for most of the great explosions of all time... the Milwaukee Coors plant blast... the great rumble of San Francisco... when I stepped on Carmen Electra's implants...

Patrick: Yah, that was a good --
Leo: Yes that was the best explosion of all time! It was even better than the time than when we stuffed Dvorak's taco bell order with sodium nitrate 675! Why they needed 18 interns just to scrape that order off the walls. HA! HA! HA!

Patrick: But Leo that can't comp...
Leo:... and I'll tell you now that this storyline could only be better with more of me! Sheesh, I'm supporting 27 kids on a salary and I need the airtime. Heck, I'm only making half as much as Paul Allen does, and he owns the company!

Patrick: Leo, a lot of us are making a lot less...
Leo: Sure you do Patrick, I feel for you, but remember, I, Leo Laporte, am the star of this network. Without me there would be no storyline! If I, Leo Laporte, Leo: I mean I'm leading the loyal forces of darkness and the country is in chaos because of ME. I'm the one who started this whole thing and I rigged that AMD chip to go off at the Microsoft presentation to unlock the vortex to the didn't turn into the 100 foot tall marshmallow man this strip wouldn't even be off the ground!

unholy that granted me my Leo powers. It was also me, Leo Laporte, who came up with the idea of demoralizing America by exposing Martin Sargent as "the Bandit"...

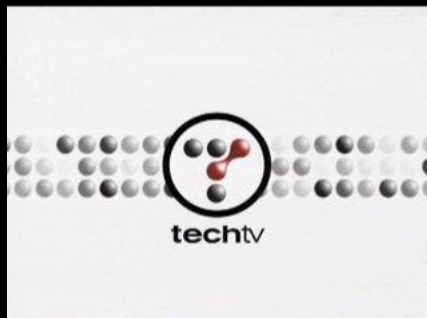

Martin: Huh huh huh huh. "I'm the Bandit." Yah. "With my black like Toyota car thing." What's this script say? "Darlin, we have a long way to go and a short..." umm. "Short... can of beer or something. Watch out people, the Bandit is in town!"

Leo: Ha! Ha! Ha! That was my greatest idea yet.
Patrick: That was MY idea!
Leo: Now now Patrick, don't be a glory hog. We all came up with that concept, and I, Leo Laporte, was the one who came up with exposing him on national television. It was I, Leo Laporte, who gets all the guests and all the credit and I, Leo Laporte, am the star of the show! And now, with the support of Microsoft and the undead army of Windows XP users, I, Leo Laporte, shall rule the world!

Patrick (muttering):... but you, Leo Laporte, will still have rely on heavy doeses of Ronco's "hair in a can" to get through a broadcast.
Leo: What was that, Pat?
Patrick: Never mind, where's my sledgehammer?

We'll be right back...