

one day AT techru ...

Steve: We're back and to our viewers we apologize for the loss of feed. With the whole "world coming to an end" thing going on things haven't been on their usual schedule around here, but, I assure you, the strangeness will soon be over...

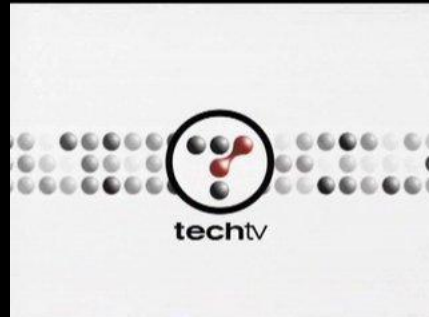

Anne: Cap'n! Cap'n! External Micro Sensors are picking up something strange!

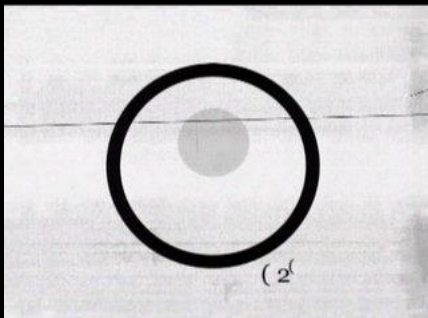

Anne: Cap'n! Detecting disturbance in our graphics department sir, switching to scanners...

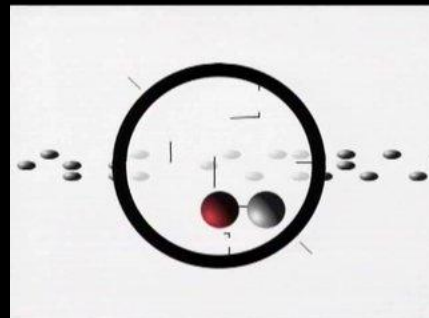

Steve: Anne that looks normal.
Anne: Sequencing, Cap'n, goin' deeper with the probe.

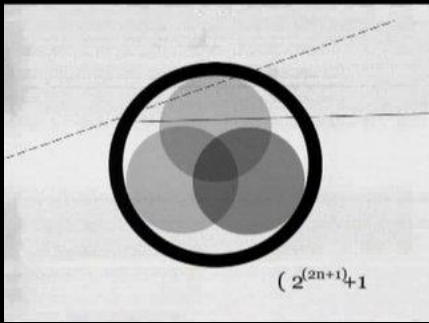

Steve: The logo seems normal, start the animation, Anne.
Anne: Aye, aye, sir!

Anne: Animation starting, sir.
Steve: Steady as she goes, Anne.

Steve: Speed her up, warp factor 3.
Anne: Aye, aye, sir!
Steve: Increase to warp 7.
Anne: Yes, Cap'n!

Steve: Increase to warp 9.
 Anne: She's shaking badly Cap'n, I dunna know how much more she can take!
 Steve: We're approaching the event horizon, everyone hang on! This is going to be rough!

Steve: My god, it's full of Leos.

Anne: Incoming, sir! Brace for impact!

Steve: Rosebud.

::Boom:: ::Pow:: ::Crash::

The End...?
