

CRAZY DAYS AT TECHTV ...

Regis: And there I was and HE WASN'T WEARING ANY PANTS!
Kelly: I like man-panties!
Regis: What the heck are you talking about? I go on and on about this fanatic story about how good old Frank Sinatra wasn't wearing any pants and you're talking about "man-panties?"
Kelly: They're neat-o!
Regis: Where do they dig up these co-hosts??

Regis: So next up on the show high tech week continues as we're going to be talking with Leo Laporte, host of TechTV's show "The Screen Savers." Kelly, have you ever seen this show?
Kelly: I can touch my nose! See me touch my nose!
Regis: Gellman, if she keeps this up I'm calling the witch to see if she wants her old job back, that's for sure!

Regis: Now dear, as you all know I'm going to be appearing with Bill Gates later on today.
Kelly: He's a mac-daddy!
Regis: Uh-huh. But first Mr. Laporte is going to show us some of his favorite high tech gadgets -- what Gellman? You want to go to commercial first? Well NOW you tell me! Blondie here was all psyched to see the toys!

Regis: See Kelly! It fits on the flipping desk! Computers don't need to be as big as a house any more!
Kelly: I love Fortran!

Leo: That's right, Regis. In my new book, Po Leo's Homeboy Computas Yo, I explain how things like this camera were once very big and how now, through the use of yo yo boogie ma technology, they're very very small!
Regis: Amazing!

Leo: See, right now I'm going to take a picture with this and you can see that it's not like in the old days! In the old days --
Regis: Technology boy! Technology boy! Stop blabbering and let's see some computer pictures!
Leo: Uh, okay, if you wait just one second I'll --

Regis: That's great, great I say, but the headgear, get to the spycam on the headgear!
Leo: Okay. One second. See Kelly, they're not really fairies living inside the screen ...
Kelly: ::Giggle::
Regis: Technology boy, show off the spycam! NOW!

Gellman: Uh, Regis, maybe we should hold off on this -- I don't think you want to see what's on the spycam ...

Regis: Hold up there, Buster, I run this show and if I say go to the headgear camera, we go to the crazy headgear camera!
Gellman: But Regis ...!

Regis: Okay, here we go. This is what Gellman was looking at. See that Leo? It's footage from your show. In fact, it's from a spy camera that is live from your set!
Leo: Hey, that's Martin and Patrick. I love them! What are they doing up so early?

Regis: It's your show, you tell me, captain spray-on hair!
Leo: Hey, that's great, can they hear us?
Regis: One second, technology boy, you're interrupting the flow of the show! Remember, I'm the host here!

Regis: Gellman! Gellman! Get the sound on this gadget here!
Leo: Wait a second, that's my PC ...
Regis: Gellman! Chop! Chop!

Patrick: I HATE YOU LEO! The Xtasy 6964 is a much better value than the Xtasy 6564! Get your video cards straight before you pitch them on Regis!

Patrick: Take this you plastic haired book shill!
Regis: Goodness gracious! So that's really your PC?
Leo: This can't be, I love Patrick! He'd never ...
Regis: Never say never, shill boy!

Leo: But Patrick, Patrick and I are tight. When he destroy my PC? I mean he knows I love him. He knows that I'm always there for him! I even gave him my book, Po Leo's Homeboy Computas Yo, at a 20% discount! What could have caused him to do this?

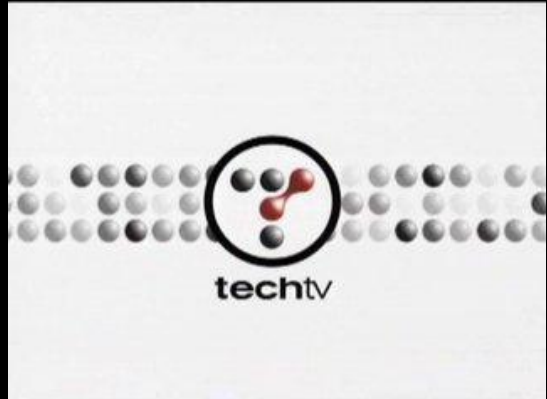

Leo: Wait, wait, there's Martin. Maybe he'll put a stop to this.
 Regis: Pull up that audio again, Gellman!
 Gellman: By your command.

Martin: You redesigned the set! It takes 2.3 more seconds to get to the can! I HATE YOU LEO LAPORTE!!!

Regis: Gellman! Gellman! Why do we always have trouble when we go to the external cameras?
 Kelly: At least it wasn't porno again!
 Leo: Oh dear god.
