

hot buttered days AT TechTV ...

Michaela: Before the break we were talking with TechTV Greg Brannan about his policy to pay TechTV associates in "Billionaire Bill's Bountyball lotto" tickets.

Michaela: Mr. Brannan, you understand that this is a most controversial decision. With the drawing this friday, who at the station has the best odds of winning this lottery?

Greg Brannan: MICHAELA, THE STATISTICAL ODDS INDICATE THAT ANYONE AT THE STATION HAS A CHANCE OF WINNING THE PRIZE AND THUS, GETTING PAID FOR THE WEEK. HOWEVER, I PERSONALLY THINK THAT THOSE WITH HIGHER PAY RATES UNDER THE OLD SYSTEM HAVE THE ADVANTAGE AS THEY SIMPLY HAVE MORE TICKETS.

Michaela: So factoring in the old pay scale around here, your odds-on favorite to win is Laporte, right?

Michaela: Dammit. So what's the point of holding a lottery anyway? Why don't you just give Leo the money and be done with it? I mean it's SO OBVIOUS that he's going to win. We're all going to starve while Leo is going to go back to the mansion, err "farm" and soak up the glory of another cheated victory.

Michaela: How strange, a sheriff at the back entrance? Where have I seen this before? Uh, hi there, uh, sheriff, what is this about?

Michaela: Sheriff, the FBI just checked

IF I WERE A BETTING MAN,
I'D PUT ALL MY MONEY ON IT.

Sheriff Justice: Excuse me, nice lady, I hate to interrupt but my son and I are seeking access to your studio facility.

Sheriff Justice: My son and I are hot on a trail of a fugitive.

Sheriff Justice: Martin who?
Junior: Daddy, I think he's the one who say the Bush Twins' magnolias.
Sheriff Justice: Magnolias? Bush Twins?

the building before the broadcast and Martin Sargent isn't here.

Michaela: If it's not Martin Sargent, maybe you can describe the person you're looking for and I'll call them to meet you at the gate.

Michaela: Japanese cartoons? I'll get Robert Heron ...

What does this have to do with our fugitive?

Junior: They were nice magnolias, daddy.

Sheriff Justice: Quiet you good for nothing sonofadrunkenflagabobber!

Sheriff Justice: Well this fella spends most of his time watching those fancy Japanese cartoons ...

Sheriff Justice: Robert who?

Junior: He's the guy on the President's commission, daddy!

Sheriff Justice: Junior, speak when you're spoken too. I'm trying to tell this nice lady that we're from the Florida Child Welfare Department.

Sheriff Justice: The wha?

Junior: He's funny man on the show with Michaela: Child welfare? What did the Gnome do now?

Michaela: If it's not Martin, and it's not the Gnome and it's not Robert Heron, wonder who it is ... do you have any more information you can share?

Michaela: Well, what's the name of the person you're looking for?

my favorite girl!

Sheriff Justice: Junior, another word about that god-derned flabagadget girl and you're riding in the back of the car. Junior: Sorry Daddy.

Sheriff Justice: I'll tell you what we know. This fugitive is into them there fancy Japanese cartoons, acts older than he or she may be, and has a name that could belong to a boy or a girl. We don't know. We got the call to come here and pick him up. So can you help us?

Sheriff Justice: The name of the dude we are looking for is Morgan Webb. A 13 year old runaway who comes from Florida by way of Toronto. Have you seen him?

Michaela: Yah, like any of you saw that coming.

We'll be right back ...
