Martin: Yah, Michael's my special friend, my hero, my strength.

Michael Jackson: Oh, Emmy, you're so funny!
Martin: Hey if you got it, you got it!
Michael Jackson: And, Emmy, you have it!

Michael Jackson: Too bad I'm going to let you go ...
Martin: When you die, right. We're "friend's forever," aren't we?

Martin: Shut the camera off? Michael, I thought this was our big "coming out" interview?
Michael Jackson: You horrible men, stop exploiting us! Now shut off the camera!

Martin: Come on Michael, Mikey-boy, stop kidding around here. You're funding my career in exchange for me doing this interview. Don't do this. We're best friends, man!
Michael Jackson: Right, you do think that. That's so sweet.

Michael Jackson: But with love, you know, it was like with Bubbles. I loved him, but he got too big and hairy as he hit maturity. I could no longer control him as he got into his teens. And Martin, while it has been fun ...

Michael Jackson: ::gasp:: Oh Martin, this is exactly what I mean! You're sweet for Martin: Dumped by Michael Jackson. Can it get any worse than this?

Martin: Say what?
Michael Jackson: Don't be mad, silly, be happy! You're going to a special place!

Martin Bashir: Little did Martin know that things would not only get worse, he'd come dangerously close to losing his life in the near future ...
