

brand new days AT TechTV ...

Erica: We'll return to our live coverage of Showtime Championship Boxing in just a minute, but first, I'm Erica Hill and this is a "One Day at TechTV" news update.

Erica: You're looking at live footage from the Pyramid Arena in Memphis, Tennessee, where former world heavyweight champion ...

Erica: ... Mike Tyson ...

Erica: ... is set to take on our own ...

Erica: ... Martin Sargent ...

Erica: ... in 15 rounds of Championship boxing. Goooooooooooo Tyson! Err. Right.

Erica: So let's look at what led up to this big showdown.

Erica: Sargent originally got himself in trouble with President George W. Bush by allegedly exposing the assets of ...

Erica: ... first daughters Jenna and Barbara Bush, seen here in file footage ...

Erica: ... on live webcam on his new TechTV show ...

MARTIN

Erica: ... Martin.

Erica: President Bush subsequently declared war on this TechTV wannabe superstar and Sargent responded by allegedly fleeing the country.

Erica: However, it turned out that Sargent was simply hiding out in a back waxing facility/bar in San Francisco.

Erica: Why the military couldn't find him when he was hiding out in this very building, we won't ask. However, we do wonder why the military didn't find him when he launched his rap career in a strange partnership with ...

Erica: ... perennial weirdo Michael Jackson. While Jackson later attempted to sue him for palimony, Sargent emerged unscathed.

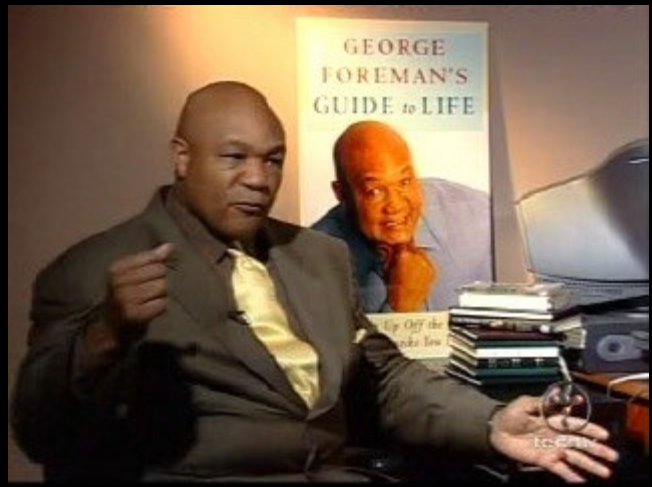

Erica: From there it got weird. Sargent tried to clone himself ...

Erica: ... only to have Cult master Rael shoot him down. Rael's clone banks were filled with orders for cloned copies of our own Kris Kosach.

Erica: I have one of those, she does my floors and windows. Anywho, Sargent went on to try to get advice from former heavyweight champion ...

Erica: ... George Foreman ...

Erica: ... who gave him little or no hope in surviving the fight. Sargent later attempted to get out of the fight by claiming the "assets" in question belonged to myself and my co-host Michaela Pereira, who he allegedly taped while we were changing. For which he shall burn in hell for eternity.

Erica: After his final plea fell on deaf ears, Sargent was then teleported to the Pyramid Arena and will give us a statement before going to the ring. Let's go to that statement now.

Erica: Wait a second, that's not Martin Sargent ...

Surprises Galore When We Come Back!

