

CUSTARD FILLED DAYS AT TECHTV ...

Becky: Oh dear god.

Michaela: Becky are you there? What do you see?

Becky: Michaela, I don't think the viewers are ready to see this. I don't think I'm ready to see this, for that matter.

Michaela: What is it? What can be so horrible? Is it the Monster?

Becky: Yah, it's something that this is going to give me nightmares for a while.

Michaela: Becky, can it be that bad? I mean it's just Patrick Norton, isn't it?

Michaela: Comprehend what? Becky? Becky? Are you there?

Michaela: Becky, you've got to pull yourself together! What are you seeing? What's going on?

Becky: Michaela, I've seen fire and I've seen rain, but I've never ... I have no words, Michaela, I'm just mindlessly quoting James Taylor songs while I try to comprehend this.

Becky: Michaela ... my powers, they aren't working out here. I'm trying to tinka the world away, but it's not working! It's not working!

Becky: There's no place like home ... there's no place like home ... IT'S NOT WORKING!

Michaela: If the cameraman can hear me, please show us what's upsetting Becky so much. We'll send help -- but we need to know what you're up against!

Man: Was that bubble from the hot springs or did someone go heavy on the hot peppers last night?

Michaela: I'll never sleep again.

Didn't I tell you? Sheesh listen to me!
