

'Tis the season of techtv ...

A Bit Later ...

Kevin: A date with a playboy bunny, a bachelor's life and it's christmas! What more can a guy ask for?

Kevin: Patrick! My man! There you are! Are you ready to fly? We've got 8 gorgeous playboy bunnies and several flagons of that special 100 proof eggnog that Don the Fa Fa cooked up! Let's put our snizzles to the hizzles and get ready to roll!

Patrick: I don't know, Kevin ...
Kevin: Don't know what? We've got the party of the decade to go to and you're having second thoughts?
Patrick: Well, yah.
Kevin: WHY?

Patrick: Because it's Christmas time and I just don't feel Christmasy.

Kevin: Not this again.

Patrick: What?

Kevin: Every year you go through this. Blah blah blah. Commercialism. Spirit of the holidays. Your tree sucks. No one likes you. Dude! What is your problem this year?

Patrick: Well this is the season. It always gets me thinking about things. About people who are gone and people who we miss, like Leo and Sarah and Yoshi, dear Yoshi. How the capitalist propaganda has spoiled the spirit of the holidays for everyone, how --

Kevin: Hold it right there, buster. We have 8 gorgeous playboy bunnies waiting for us. We have 100 proof eggnog! One sip of that and they'll be reliving their pictorials right there in our electronic sleigh! If that doesn't make you happy, what will?

Patrick: Maybe a Christmas miracle.

Kevin: A Christmas miracle? Wise up, man! Those things only happen in songs and tv specials! They're not reality! Get these stupid ideas out of your head! They don't happen! They're never going to happen and no matter how many times you sing "one foot in front of the other" that penguin isn't going to learn to walk and there won't be a miracle this year! Now get your head together, get ready to have fun, and stop babbling about things that will never happen!

Sarah: Who dat? Who dere?

Patrick: Look. A Christmas miracle!
Kevin: I hate you.

Merry Whatever! Happy Holidays!
