

RELIVING THOSE DAYS AT TECHTV ...

Michaela: ... and Erica Hill is here with me with more on this breaking story. What do you have, Erica?

Erica: No.
 Michaela: What?
 Erica: No.
 Michaela: Why?
 Erica: I'm not talking to you.

Erica: Leo told me what you said.
 Michaela: What?
 Erica: He said that you said that with this haircut and these glasses I should be shipped off to one of his camps.
 Michaela: Huh?

Erica: He said that you said that I should be locked up for my own good and that everyone is embarrassed to see me like this. I was once sexxy and now I'm ...
 Michaela: ... fooled by another great Leo

Erica: Say what?
 Michaela: Erica, you're like a sister. Even if I were to hate your hair and that outfit, let alone those nerd glasses, which I really really do, I'd never go expressing my true feelings to Leo

Laporte myth.

Erica: Uh-huh. Leo's trustworthy, unlike SOME people.
 Michaela: Since when?
 Erica: What?
 Michaela: Since when did you lose your mind and start believing any of the words that were coming out of his mouth?

Laporte.

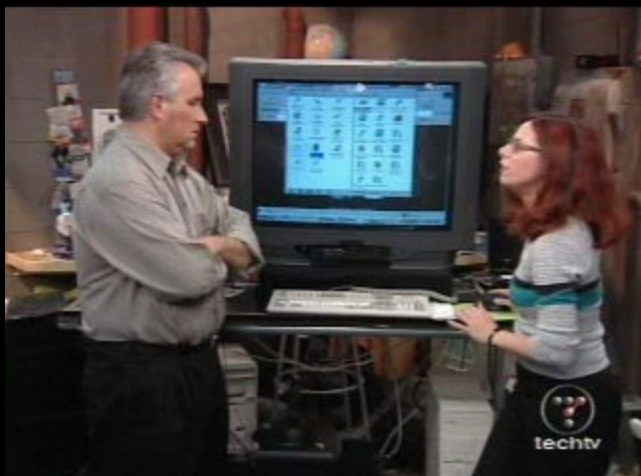

Erica: But Leo wouldn't LIE! Leo's a good guy! He makes me feel special ...
 Michaela: Erica, when did he tell you about what I allegedly said.
 Erica: Well we were at dinner ...
 Michaela: ... before or after the check?
 Erica: Umm, I was just handed the check.

Michaela: Typical.
 Erica: What?
 Michaela: You eyed the check, since you agreed to go dutch. He told you what "I" had said about you, you got really angry at me, mindlessly paid the check and Leo spent the rest of the evening making you feel like you were his best friend in the world?
 Erica: Oh dear god.

Michaela: Honey, the "recycling Leo" routine happens to the best of them.
 Erica: But, he made me feel like I was special! He was going to make me a folder on Leoville so I can talk to his fans! He promised! I don't understand!
 Michaela: Honey, you weren't the first and you weren't the last, just watch this tape and it'll explain everything.

Leo: Kate, I must tell you, I've seen and fired many many people to get to this point and you alone survived. This is both a shock to me and a delightful surprise.

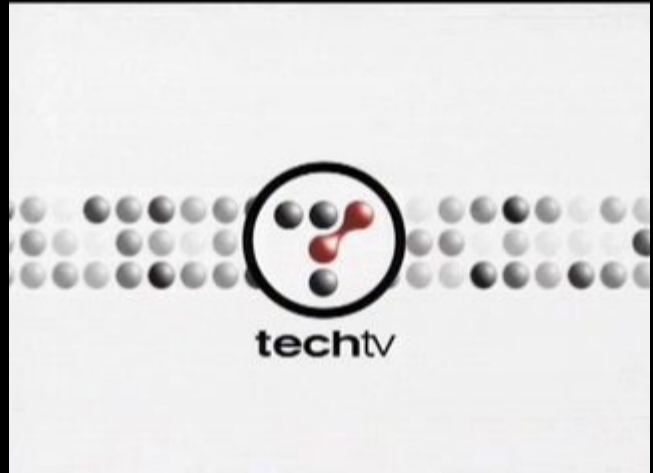

Leo: You see, Kate, this great adventure in business is just starting but I think you and I both know that a second adventure started right after my divorce was finalized.

Leo: Yes, that's right. I went looking for a co-host and not only did I find the best person possible for the job, I may have found the love of my life right here in on the set of the Screen Savers. I love it, just love it!
Kate: Oh Leo!

Erica: Wait! Isn't that the same speech that he just gave to Robyn?
Michaela: Um-hmm.
Erica: So he has recycled! How many more has he done this to?
Erica: Robyn, Kate, the Spray-on-Hair lady, Becky Worley, Jim Louderback, Paul Block, that creepy guy who hangs out in the restroom ...

Erica: Robert Heron? Has he no shame?
Michaela: Apparently not.
Erica: Then what do we do about it? How can we stop him from corrupting more innocents with this unjust plan? And how can I get my $375.95 back? That bastard ate his weight in oysters at Red Lobster! He must pay! He must pay!
Michaela: Patience, Erica, for I have a plan, oh, yes, I have a plan ...

When it Rains it Pours! Toodles!